There is Always Something Else,

When we are young-young in yours or young in experience-we declare passionately, holly, vehemently, that we want what we want when Ark. we want it; there is nothing—no, absolutely nothing—that can take its place. But as we grow wiser we find that there is always something else—not so good, not the same, perhaps—but still semething. You cannot have the but you want, but you can have place. But as we grow wiser we find that there is always something else—not so good, not the same, perhaps—but still samething. The engagement had been known to relatives and a few friends in El Dorado for some time and the marriage is of considerable interest in Wichita to friends of both. Until several weeks ago, when she went to Tulsa to visit her sister, Miss Mercedes Ferry, and her cousti, Mrs Gray Carroll, the bride was connected with The Wichita Easte. She has a most engaging personality, making friends box of flowers, sent by Judge and Mrs Gray Carroll of Tulsa, and received at the church just before the ceremony.

some sort of a head covering, and after all, it is not of supreme importance. Your dinner does not please you; pork does not agree with you, and you do not like onions—well, there is always something else, if it is only bread and butter.

Ferhaps you have a friend with a dancing party their visting friends, Misses Flora and Edm Candar of Atlanta, Ga. The affair took place in the Ohio building there is always something clse, if it is only bread and butter.

Ferhaps you have a friend with whom you are most happily congental; your friendship means much to you; you cannot imagine how you would endure life without it. And then something happens, the friendship is broken, and you survey the ruins and think, "Everything is gone, there is nothing left in my life." But after a time—it may seem an eternity—you find that other flowers are growing in the garden you thought laid waste forever, and your life is not empty after all.

We cannot appreciate the consolation of this provision when we are on the heights or in the depths of an experience. We insist that we can never be happy again. But slowly, gradually, old wounds heal, old sears fade, and the brilliancy of the suast is followed by the calmness of the night. It is not the same thing that once was, to be sure, but it is something that has come to you. There are no vacuums in nature nor in human hearts.

And we realize that we need not have suffered an experience. It is not the same thing that once was, to be sure, but it is something that has come to you. There are no vacuums in nature nor in human hearts.

And we realize that we need not have suffered an experience.

we had only believed then what we know now—that no matter what happens, there is always something else.

THIS may be a new idea to you, but think it over.

The point is that the Remington Typewriter line is the one and only

COMPLETE Typewriter Line

It is the only line which has a typewriter for every taste, for every need, for every purse, for every purpose.

The physician with only one prescription for every case wouldn't command your confidence, would he? You know that one prescription cannot cover all cases. Neither can one style of typewriter cover all needs.

The manufacturer of only one style of machine is a special pleader for that one machine. He has got to be. But we are not special pleaders-we are consulting experts, without bias or leaning towards any type or kind of construction... We are in a position to furnish you any style of machine your individual requirements demand.

Think of us in this light, and you will realize how well it will pay you to call us in, and consult with us about your typewriter needs.
